

The impact of COVID-19 on our projects ...

Even if the first positive signals appear today in France and Italy, great caution is required. Continue to apply the official instructions pending the long-awaited deconfinement. In Italy, the situation also seems to be stabilizing. Although the small islands have been spared so far, Ischia has counted about thirty cases, including one person who has died.

After the cancellation in March of our two trips to Italy for our digitalization and on-site research projects in Naples and Ischia... we should wait until the summer to review the schedule of our trips and to plan our future meetings.

That is why I regret to announce the obvious by cancelling our next scheduled meetings in Clermont-Ferrand on June 6th.

After discussion with the other members of the Administrative Board, we feel that this date is too close to the end of confinement and we therefore prefer not to take any risks to each of us. This event will be postponed to a later date as soon as possible and probably in the fall. We will keep you informed on time.

For now, stay home and protect yourself to protect your loved ones.

Still some positive things during confinement

It is important for everyone to use the disadvantages of forced confinement to our own advantage, using the time available to other tasks often left out, for lack of time in normal situation!

First of all, the containment allowed a dozen of you to take the opportunity to join La Grande Famille and thus continue or start their genealogical search.

Also, following my solicitation, several new volunteers have joined us and are taking part in often thankless actions downloading and computerizing registers, all of which will be beneficial for everyone in the short and medium term. A big THANK YOU to our volunteers!! Today the results are already being felt, the part of which is visible to all is the number of new registers indexed in 1 month available in our database! (See next page)

On the "experts" side, we were able to take advantage of the extra time granted by the containment to review, update and actively work on several projects on hold (website update, notarial registers, Antenati and FamilySearch register classifications among others).

Some work in progress ... April 2020

I thank you for your excellent work and your help, and I count on you to continue this momentum during the rest of the confinement and of course beyond 😊 - to be continued...

The notarial archives in NAPLES

Following our past investigations at the Archives in Naples in October 2018, which resulted in much work and the provision of a new research service for members, we completed the initial information with the following aids:

The list of notaries who have practiced in Procida, Ischia or Ventotene as well as the list of all existing registers for each notary are not online on our web site.

All you need to do is click on "List of Registers", choose the place "Italy" and then the archive "Archivio dei Notai a Napoli":

I remind you that the procedure for searching for a notarial document has already been documented by Guy ATTANASIO (whom I thank) and is available on our website in the "Registers" section. In addition, you will find an additional tutorial (which Guy has just prepared) explaining how to do your research from these lists.

When it will become possible to travel to Naples again this fall, we will scan the registers you have ordered us. It should also be noted that we will take the opportunity to carry out the additional checks for the other notaries who have practiced in Ponza and Capri.

New registers and index available

Please find below the list of new coming updates for the online registers and indexes:

TESTACCIO Parrocchia di San Giorgio	Census A01-1914 (Sylviane MORIAU)

Thank you to our volunteers who work for all of us.

Do not hesitate to contact me to computerize some records, a little every day

Evolution of our web site

After the new colors for our search engine in March, you can now view or download the user's guide of the site reviewed in full and corrected in French or English.

A new feature to come - research by individual: currently under development, this option will allow you to search for a chosen ancestor for which you lack important elements (where was he born? when? did he marry on another island? which one? where did he live?) or for which you want to know more about his life. So by searching all our database in just one click, you can discover all the records and documents concerning him potentially (birth certificate, marriages, death, maritime registration if he was a sailor, presence in a census, on one island or another...).

A few more months of patience, the work continues.

Our upcoming events

Here is the forecast schedule for events in 2020 and 2021.
You will be informed in more details when the time comes.

Fall 2020

- Lunch/conference in Clermont-Ferrand (date to be defined) - we are waiting for the restaurant to reopen to reschedule.
- Participation at the Regional Days of the South Provence Genealogical Centre in Port-de-Bouc on October 24 and 25, 2020.

Spring 2021

- Our 9th General Meeting will be held in PROCIDA likely on Tuesday, May 4, 2021 (date to be reconfirmed).

La Corricella, Procida – October 2019

Hoping to confirm all this in the coming months, be well and looking forward to seeing you soon at one or more of these events!
